Cardinal Lilly, Rae the Commoner, and What It Means to Feel

by lefemmerougensfw

Summary

The morning after Rae gave into newfound pleasure by letting a cute silver-haired cardinal named Lilly place her seed inside of her, she prepares to leave Lilly's private room. Suddenly, she feels a strong sensation between her legs, causing her to fall to the ground, and begin to moan. She learns that Lilly placed a magic bead inside her place of wonder the previous night. She thinks that this will be over soon and that she can depart, forgetting that any of this ever happened. That is not to be. When Lilly takes out the bead, her love juices squirt onto the cardinal's face. Her liquids of desire run down her leg when she reaches for her pants, after Lilly's thumb accidentally touches the sensitive area between her legs. She admits her romantic and sexual attraction to the cardinal. As they spend time together, Rae's sexual excitement grows. Lilly moves forward with a gentle form of domination over her, bringing them closer together than ever before, which causes the commoner to make a surprising admission. You'll have to read to find out what goes down between these two beautiful women...

Notes

Hey everyone! I went back-and-forth on whether to make this a chapter with the fic "I Want You Inside of Me" (listed in the inspirations) which I published in late November of last year for Breedvember, a challenge/event centered around breeding kinks, which had "67 different prompts...and 7 bonus prompts that you can use as swaps." Prior to writing that fic, I was unaware of breeding and learned about it from an article in Bustle. In the opening A/N for that fic, I noted that I chose the Lilly/Rae pairing because there are very few fics on AO3 bring those characters together romantically. This is despite the fact that her fandom page says that she found comfort in Rae and fell in love with her. In that A/M I also added, "I know that Claire/Rae is canon, but why not try something different? That's what this fic is about." That fic fulfilled the begging, forced breeding, manipulation/gaslighting, jealousy, lactation, tied up, cucking/cheating, claiming/marketing/possessiveness, seduction or corruption, and revenge/hate sex prompts, plus a few bonus/swaps: "You look so hot while you're getting me pregnant", "Don't fight it. You will take my seed", "I can't wait until these pretty little tits are leaking milk for me", "I'm going to fill you up until you can't hold any more", "You're going to take every last drop", and "You were made to be bred".

This fic is different from that one. Since I published that fic, only two more fics for the Lilly/Rae pairing have been published on here: "Villainess Calling \(Remastered\)" (an ongoing fic with 18 chapters, which is set in the modern era in an alternate universe with punk rock) by AprilDruid and "Have mercy on me" (currently only one chapter) by Columbeana. The latter fic was a partial inspiration for this one, although not completely, as Claire is only mentioned in this fic, and Lilly is not yandere. The other fic was also a partial inspiration as well.

Otherwise, the line "She wasn't stoic like she had been when met Rae for the first time after a commoner student named Matt Monte was attacked on campus" is inspired by Lilly's appearances on pages 42 and 46 of the fourth volume of the ILTV manga, with those pages comprising chapter 17, her debut in the manga. She does not appear at all in volume five, but she does briefly appear in the sixth volume, on page 168 (final page of chapter 30), where she observes the lovely weather on a wonderful day while standing in front of the Spiritual Church, and also appears on the previous page. The illustration of Lilly on page 168 was the inspiration for this line: "She brushed back her silver hair with her hand, which almost glowed from the outside light." More than any other volume, the seventh volume is focused on Lilly although not exclusively. There is even an entire chapter, chapter 31, entitled "Lilly Lilium." That chapter, and the entire book, was an inspiration for many parts of this fic. In addition, parts of this fic are inspired by pages 28, 74, 86, 89, 104, 170, 171, and 173 of the ILTV manga volume eight, which is the most recently published volume available in English.

Lastly, back to what I said in the beginning of this A/N, about whether to make this a separate fic, or a chapter of the previous one, I decided to make this part of a series, which I am entitling "Lilly's Revenge and Rae's Begrudging Submission" after what I entitled the first fic as "chapter 1" when posting it on Adult Fanfiction and Asian Fanfiction, which are, like Quotev and Wattpad, more suited to writing in chapters, rather than writing in a series. This fic is also cross-posted on Adult Fanfiction (can only read if you say you are over 18), Squidge World (can only read if logged in), and Asian Fanfiction (can only read if you say you are over 18).

I began writing this fic in early March of this year, then continued it in later March after somewhere I had been hoping to work turned me down, saying they had other qualified candidates, continuing my joblessness. It has been almost a year now in which I have been out of work. Hopefully, something changes, but otherwise, I may have to increase my side-hustles as some call it.

As always, comments, and constructive criticism, are welcome.

Update on 4/1/26: The text was slightly updated and improved from the original. Thanks to everyone for reading!

Like the previous night, Rae found herself in the room of Cardinal Lilly. She had agreed to stay with her. One thing was different: she was not tied to the bed frame. She could leave. She could get back to Miss Claire, who she was still devoted to. Before Lilly awoke, the plan started to form in her mind: she could tip-toe out of the room, leave a note, and thank this cute, silver-haired girl for her time. Everything seemed to be going well. She slipped out of the bed, put on her clothes, and slowly made her way to the door. Suddenly, a certain sensation grew inside her from the bead Lilly had placed within her special place while the bracelet on Lilly's arm glowed. Rae suddenly realized something was wrong.

She soon fell to the floor, with the vibrations growing stronger, and began to moan. She couldn't stop herself. Lilly yawned as she saw Rae on the ground. She knew exactly what was happening. "Oh Miss Rae, I told you yesterday: you can't just leave. Remember we are intertwined now." Rae was trying to understand what she meant. Was she threatening her? Or no? The sister quickly explained. "I put a magic bead inside your...certain...place...last night. If you move too far away from me...you will start to feel certain things." The commoner got down on her hands and knees, locking eyes with the cardinal. She was desperate. She wanted this to be over. She had to get back to Miss Claire.

"Please, sister Lilly, take it out. I promise I will do whatever you ask." Lilly grinned. She had been hoping for exactly this request. She was internally squealing. She had been looking forward to it. "Well. Y-y-y-you have to treat me like your partner too. Otherwise, it isn't fair!" she shouted. Rae grimaced at the possibility. She felt that she had to agree, at least for now, until she got out of this situation. The cardinal was nice enough. She could certainly entertain her for the time being. What could go wrong? It wasn't like she would fall completely, and deeply, in love, with Lilly and forget all about Claire, right? That wouldn't happen. There was no way that would happen, even with a luscious cardinal like Lilly.

"Fine. I can do that." Lilly was giddy. She hadn't expected Rae would agree that easily to her request. What was really going on? She didn't care about that. Some time ago, Claire had told Lilly to protect the commoner if the "occasion" should arise. She was stretching what Claire had said as far she could, so that she could justify her effort to make this beautiful woman fully hers. There was certainly some jealousy present, without a doubt. If Rae had been male, she wouldn't have fallen in love with her in the first place. But since she was a woman, the affection was strong, almost overwhelmingly, especially since Rae had helped her realize she was a lesbian, and that being so was completely okay.

"Okay, Miss Rae, please take off your pants...the only way I can get the bead out of you is to reach into your...uh..." She paused. She felt almost nervous talking about it for some reason. Rae sighed. "In my vagina. I know. Just please be gentle." Lilly nodded. Rae undid her belt and her pants fell to the floor with a large thud. She slipped off her panties, which landed on top of her pants. A blush filled her face, making her face the color of a ripe Macintosh apple. This was so damn embarrassing. Staring at what was in front of her, Lilly said, proudly, "Surely I'm allowed to look at such a beautiful pussy, even if only for a minute or two." She was hungry for her, wanting to stick her tongue in so deep...

Rae stared daggers at Lilly. Couldn't she get a move on already? She wanted to push her to move much faster, but she let the cardinal have this victory for now. This would all soon be over. Lilly reached her hand inside, expanding the commoner's tunnel of love. It felt so natural and so pure. She tried to stop herself, but she found herself incredibly turned on. Lilly finally grabbed the bead. As her hand exited, Rae felt a state of relief. Just then, her sticky love juices squirted out with such force, getting all over everything, including her friend's face. She couldn't believe what had just happened. She had crossed the line. Her seed was on her friend. She was almost in a total breakdown when she saw this, since she never intended it. She wasn't hitching her breath, but her skin was certainly becoming prickly, with more goosebumps, as pleasure built inside her, with her nerves on fire.

She was very apologetic and nearly bowed toward the cardinal. "I'm so so sorry, I'll clean it all up for you." As she reached for her pants to get a handkerchief, Lilly's thumb snagged on her special place, which was slowly becoming more swollen by the minute, making more sweet white liquid drip out and onto the floor below, as it ran down her legs like a small stream. This shocked Lilly, who tilted her head toward her curiously. She had not expected this, not at all. She had thought that the woman would have held it in. Was the commoner into her after all? She would not let this opportunity pass. She pressed her friend for answer. She had to know the truth. "M-M-M-Miss Rae, do you...perhaps...have feelings for me?" The commoner didn't know how to answer that question. Should she be honest or should she sidestep it? Perhaps she could do both. Why not?

"Well, I guess I do..." she said, although she did not say this in an energetic manner. Even so, her words filled Lilly's eyes with delight. She saw her brown hair shining under the light. She found it so stunningly beautiful in such an effortless way. She would have snapped out of this trance, but she didn't want to. There was no one there to glare at her or judge her for what she was doing, to put down her affection for the commoner. She didn't usually like how Claire spoke to her Rae, how she spoke to her in such a strict manner, like an insolent person. She disliked Claire telling Rae to not dote on her, while putting down her eagerness and friendliness toward her. None of that mattered now.

She would keep this going as long as she could. She wouldn't have to deal with that damn bitch. She didn't want to think of her that way, but since she was nothing more than her love rival, she wanted to strongly stake her claim. She would make sure that the commoner saw her for who she was: a person who deeply cared about her. She brushed back her silver hair with her hand, which almost glowed, even brighter than Rae's brown hair. She wasn't stoic like she had been when met Rae for the first time after a commoner student named Matt Monte was attacked on campus. Back then, she only served as a partial observer of sorts. This time she was much more assured.

She stared right at the commoner, who could feel her intensity. She couldn't try to woo her by saying it was her first time or that she was losing her virginity, as that already happened between both of them. Instead, she wanted to uplift her by giving her challenges while praising her, building her confidence, and giving her rewards of sorts. She had a huge smile on her face. "Miss Rae, do you perhaps want to...do more...of this...sexy...stuff together?" She wasn't sure whether the woman she loved would agree to this. She hoped she would. After all, the bead was now out of her. She could leave at any time. She could go back to Claire and forget this ever happened. Lilly shuttered at that possibility.

"If you could...guide me through it...that would be great...I just don't know why I am feeling this way. I thought Miss Claire was the only one for me...but my body starts to heat up when I am around you, sister." Lilly could see where this was going. She gave Rae a hug and said, "Okay Miss Rae, I will try." She then whispered, "You are so cute, I can't stand it. I don't know how you stay so beautiful every single day." Those words made her feel better already. She started to get a bit more relaxed, with the warmth from Lilly's body flowing into her. She liked this much more than when Lilly had been demanding. She felt very comfortable. She was starting to lose her composure.

The laugh from her dear sister was followed by a shy smile, which Rae found cute. Despite her occasional outbursts, she could see that Lilly cared and gave her the space she needed. She could be good about that. All she wanted now was to unwind with her and not worry about anything else going on in the world. Nothing else mattered. After she gave the cardinal permission to do so, she softly petted her brown hair, while slowly moving her hand back and forth in a gentle way, to make her even more relaxed. Rae still hadn't put her pants back on. She could have done so, but she was opening herself up to new possibilities this time. Her heart was racing and she almost felt bashful.

"I, Lilly, say things I shouldn't sometimes, but when I am around you...it is different than when I'm near anyone else." Rae could certainly understand that. However, for the cardinal, Rae was everything to her. She did so much just by existing and being in the same space as her. In an effort to keep the environment supportive and nurturing, she wasn't going to compose music and make food with a recipe, but she'd be maintaining her intensity toward the commoner in the strongest ways she could. She shushed Rae with her finger, then kissed her on the cheek. She wanted to show the commoner that she cared. This was part of an effort to pull her in, and make it all feel familiar.

Rae was a bit surprised but didn't push her away. She let Lilly move her hands softly across her body, then agreed to be blindfolded with one of the cardinal's ceremonial scarves, allowing her to focus her mind on the sensations caused by her friend touching her skin. She would much rather agree with the latter, rather than her friend using a vibrator, or dildo, to enter her ass. The latter existed in this world, but the former didn't, unless controlled by magic. Lilly pulled out a feather from one of her room's decorations and was ready to begin tickling Rae's body. But she needed her permission first. That was important for her, no matter what she did the day prior. It was better to check in and ask if someone liked being stimulated sexually in a certain way, or if they wanted it to stop because it hurt. She had tendencies which made her act like a dominatrix. This time she wanted to ease Rae into it, so she could consume every part of her.

"Now, Miss Rae, I'll see how much you can handle. I'll start slow, then speed it up. Try your best to not move or twitch your body. If you don't, I'll praise you. If you do, I'll punish you in the way I see fit. Are you okay with that?" she asked, while cooing her. Rae had done this kind of thing in the past, so she was a bit familiar with it. Lilly could be a very timid. This time she wanted to exude more determination. "Okay. The safe word is Relaire." This made the cardinal a bit annoyed since that word was a name blend between the first names of her Rae and Miss Claire. Despite that, she was glad to have this time with her. She felt honored to be in the same room as her.

"Can you take off your...uh...shirt...please...JUST DO IT!" she exclaimed, with her inner feelings spilling out. She quickly apologized. "Sorry. I didn't mean to say those last words. If you could..." Her shirt and other clothes dropped to the floor. With her pants, panties, and shirt now lying on the floor, she was stark naked in front of her dear sister. This made her a bit nervous. Lilly guided her to the nearby bed where she laid down on top of the sheets. "You are such a good girl, Rae. I want to make you feel so good, so be patient with me," she said, while speaking under her breath, "I've wanted this for so long, from such a pretty woman like you." She didn't care if the commoner heard her or not. She almost hoped that she did. As it turned out, Rae did. She did her darnedest to hold back her blush. She was unable to stop it completely, despite her efforts.

The cardinal didn't comment on the commoner's blush. Instead, she wanted to move forward and quickly. She bet that she could make Rae feel better. She swiftly maneuvered the feather across her skin, moving it back and forth in simple motions. Rae could handle this for now. Then Lilly told her she was increasing the pace. The feather moved faster and faster, causing her nipples to become erect. She was unsure how to feel about this. She nearly expected that the cardinal would suck on them as she did the previous night. As she thought about all of this, her muscles began clenching, as the pressure within her body increased. That wasn't what her friend had in mind, at least at first.

Rae was much more excited than Lilly thought she would be. The commoner then happened to twitch from the sensation. She didn't know what sort of punishment Lilly had in mind. The cardinal proceeded to jostle her breasts, from side to side, causing her to yelp in pain. She flitted her tongue on each tit, then sucked on them all her might, biting each one hard, making the commoner blurt out, "oohhhh. that feels so good!" Putting down the feather, she playfully moved her hands on the side of Rae's body, going between her ribs, causing her to laugh wildly. She couldn't believe how this felt, as her breathing became heavier. Lilly moved her hands all over the commoner's body, including on her feet. This all felt so good. Lilly would never use hot candle wax, sharp points, or stimulate Rae through electricity. Besides, she couldn't wield electricity like others. She would never dream of trying to touch the commoner with a knife.

She had something else in mind which she hoped would make clear to the commoner one thing: she was the submissive one while she, Lilly, was the dominant one. That had been her plan the entire time they had been together, whether this morning, or the previous night. With all her might, she smacked Rae across her chest multiple times, alternating between her left and right hands, causing her to cry out in a mix of pain and pleasure. Still with the blindfold on and her naked body exposed, the air in the room was causing some of her hair to stand on end. If she could have seen Lilly, she would have noticed a smile on her face, as she was pleased at what she was doing to the woman she loved. She noticed that the cardinal was moving around. Something was happening. She asked if she could take off her blindfold, but the cardinal denied her that. This made Rae a bit concerned.

"Lilly, should I be worried?" She shook her head. She had to make sure her sweet Rae was okay with it. Being in her presence revitalized her, washing away all the issues she was dealing with as a cardinal. She knew that Rae would tell her she had nothing to worry about. She resisted apologizing to her, as she was often prone to do, when she made any sort of mistake. She tried to explain herself the best she could. "N-n-n-no. I'm only going to give you the most pleasure possible, if you'll let me. I'm sure you will enjoy it...even as a commoner." Rae almost rolled her eyes at the last comment, although she knew that Lilly meant well. She nearly sighed, then stopped herself. "Okay."

Quickly moving down the commoner's body, she started first under her breasts, planting a kiss every couple inches, making Rae's hair stand even more on end, and causing her to moan. It felt more intense since she couldn't see what the cardinal was doing. In no time at all, the cardinal made her way closer and closer to her altar of desire. It was obvious where Lilly was going. Rae wasn't sure she was completely ready for it or not. The sensation of the kisses teasing around the entrance to her special place, made her moaning even more intense. When Lilly brought in her tongue, starting to lick slowly then more quickly, as the commoner became even wetter. Her moaning became louder. She felt such euphoria. She wished that Miss Claire would do this to her as well, but why not have a cute cardinal do it instead? After all, this time she was gentle. What she was doing to her felt almost soothing in its own way.

The cardinal forcefully stuck her tongue in, sucking in as much as she could. She explored around the edges as her tongue skimmed and glided along. Rae couldn't hold it in any longer. Her sweet love juices came out. Lilly lapped them up like a cat drinking milk in a deep dish, nearly purring in the process. She wouldn't be cleaning up this mess. Although her tongue was flat and not pointed, the commoner still savored the sensation. The cardinal loved the taste on her lips, especially when it squirted onto her face once more. The commoner was so embarrassed, but Lilly did not stop, continuing to suck and shove her tongue in even deeper. These sensations caused milk to begin flowing out of her breasts as well. Lilly had no intention of stopping. She kept going. She had a surprise, of sorts, in store for her friend. She planned to use her magic abilities, as energy surrounded her. It would likely push the commoner over the edge.

With Rae's permission, she used her aptitude for water magic, to bend water into a sphere. She formed it at her fingertip, without even the use of a wand. This was possible since people could perform magic with their hands. Concentrating it a specific direction, she then shot the water into Rae's special place with force and determination. The water nearly overwhelmed the commoner when it went inside her special place. These sensations were something she had never experienced in her entire life, either in this world, or her previous one. This was no jackhammer. It was more a wave flowing straight into her. As her hips rolled and bucked, her altar of desire jolted, rolled, and jerked forward. She didn't stammer, murmur, or speak in a whisper. Her moaning became so loud it filled the whole room. Her back arched as she squirmed, twitched, and otherwise enjoyed the new rhythms-of-sorts spreading through her.

As more of her cum spurted out, she pleaded for the cardinal to be done. "That's enough, please. I can't." Lilly had achieved what she set out to do. She could win over Claire. She had one final part of her plan. She wanted to be clear. "I'll stop when you agree to stay with only me and no one else." Her moaning took over her voice. She could think of nothing other than what this cardinal was doing to her and what the cardinal could do to her. "Okay, fine," she said, with a tinge of regret. Lilly was overjoyed. She stopped using water magic on Rae and entered into a hug. This was her sort-of aftercare, although she'd love to do more later, whether they'd sit in a bubble bath together, or if she massaged her with lotions and oils, to ensure their intimacy remained strong. This was part of her strategy to make this commoner stay with her and not anyone else. After all, she savored her taste more than anything.

"Thank you so much Rae. This means so much to me," she said while blushing. She didn't appear more refined, or in-tune with herself. Instead, she looked cute, especially since she had on a simple robe, which she had not taken off, unlike the commoner. There was no denying that. Just when Rae was internally debating if she had made the right decision, Lilly thrust her fingers inside. Her love juices came out once again. She said under her breath, "I love you Lilly Lilium, with all my heart." That was true. She has said it before to Claire, but this was the first time she had said it to the cardinal. Unfortunately for her, the cardinal had heard her. She planned to keep her there not by force, but by continuing to pleasure her each and every day. Rae would do the same for her, so that it wasn't purely one-sided. As for Lilly, she'd make sure that the commoner would fall even harder for her than she had already. She had only begun...

End Notes

I was originally planning on including Petplay here, since it was shown at the end of volume seven of the ILTV manga. A profile for Lilly on page 180 of the same volume states that she is only 13 years old when introduced and is normally hesitant with loiterers but can "randomly snap into a foul mood" while she has an aptitude for water magic. I had also forgotten, when re-reading this manga volume before this fic was published, that she proposed marriage multiple times to Rae. I'm not going to bring that up in this fic, but that could be another good fic for them. Another possible idea would be for Rae and Lilly to go out on a nice date together. The fandom wiki also notes she was the babysitter for May (an adopted child of Rae and Lilly), partially gaining a crush on her, while having someone who loved her as well (which was unrequited) named Friedelinde Elmer. I was unaware that there was a two-year age gap between Lilly and Rae, with the latter, originally age 15-16 at her debut, the same age as Claire. During the course of the series, Rae is not only loved by Claire and Lilly, but by Manaria Sousse, Lana Lahna, and Rod Bauer.

We get to the crux of the issue: The AO3 rules say that underage sex counts as "descriptions or depictions of sexual activity involving characters under the age of eighteen." Considering that by the end of the series Claire and Rae would be age 17, and Lilly would be at most, age 15, it would fall under this rule because even if Rae was aged up by one year, Lilly would still be age 16. So, I added in underage sex as a tag to the original fic and added to this one too.

As always, the page on the fandom wiki for Lilly Lilium was helpful, although it says little about her abilities, only stating that her power/abilities include water magic, and as the Masked Man, high-aptitude wind magic and time manipulation. I had to think of how water magic would be used in my own way, as none of the over 80 fics she appears in on AO3 seemed to use the word "water" within them from a quick search. However, when examining the fics themselves, that original search result was proven wrong. As such, the paragraph about water magic, and how Lilly uses it on Rae, near the end of this fic, is inspired by the following lines from Chapter 4 of Anndre_sama's "What a shameless feline": "...Taylor, who was next to Misha, also approached to shoot and, thinking that she would take out her wand, she aimed with one hand and a sphere of water formed at the tip of her finger, energy surrounded her and she shot...we can all perform magic with our hands, but mana, when not concentrated in a specific place, is not released or manifested in a great way, but it seems that all that is not done with Taylor. She did it with such ease and it could be clearly seen that when she shot, she moved her hand a little so as not to generate a great impact and I was not the only one who noticed it, since Prince Road [sic] was also looking at her with great curiosity." Since that fic is rated General Audiences, I did not want to list it as an inspiration for this one. Parts of this fic were inspired by parts of the ever-helpful "Smut Thesaurus" by prurientpudlejumper which can be fully read on Tumblr for those with accounts there.

The original fic in this series, which garnered over 670 hits, 12 kudos, 2 bookmarks, and a few comments since its publication (plus 81 views on Asian Fanfiction, over 160 hits on Adult Fanfiction, and 11 hits on Squidge World), was 2,406 words long. This one was over 120 words more. It is much more sexy, smutty, and the like than one. I read over the latter fic, before finishing this one, to make sure I wasn't missing anything, and I feel this one is much better than that one in various ways. There are some quotes from "Villainess Calling (Remastered)" which I could not use here as an inspiration, but I plan to use in future fics, going back to what I said in earlier, about Lilly and Rae getting married, or Rae and Lilly going out on a nice date together.
